Featuring:

Fr. Meletios Webber, The Abbot of St. John of San Francisco Monastery, Manton California

Fr. Meletios is the Abbot of St. John of San Francisco Monastery, Manton, California.

Fr. Meletios was educated at Dulwich College and Oxford University in England, the University of Thessalonika, and has a doctorate in psychological counseling from the University of Montana. A monk of Patmos since 1978, he has served the Orthodox Church in Greece, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Montana, and California.

He is the author of two books: “Bread and Water, Wine and Oil” on the nature of the Orthodox experience of God, and “Steps of Transformation”, a commentary on the Twelve Steps of Alcoholics Anonymous from an Orthodox point of view.

Join your fellow Orthodox Christians to hear Father Meletios speak on this very important topic. You will have an opportunity to ask questions, share your concerns and participate in discussion.
